

Please do not weaken the Wisconsin no call list! If anything, the Federal and Wisconsin no call lists should be made more strict! Businesses have many other forms of advertising, and should not rely on unsolicited telephone calls to individuals to get more customers.

If businesses are going to be allowed to call individuals on evenings and weekends, then the businesses should be forced to reveal the home telephone numbers of their corporate management (president, CEO, etc) so that individuals can call them at random hours to discuss their advertising practices.
